OF LOCAL INTEREST

GRAEME ABOUT—Dick Graeme of the Standard Auto company is about town again after a severe siege of pneumonia. For a time Dick thought that he wouldn't act as mechanic for the Ohio car in any more Los Angeles. Phoenix races but the world is looking brighter now.

SURPRISINGLY CUT DOWN—Now that order has been restored in the office of the county treasurer after the flurry of the last week of taxpaying time it has been found that the delinquent list is much shorter than it had been feared it would be. Out of a total tax of $561,000 all but $41,000 has been collected. The list is therefore proportionately shorter than it was a year ago.

PAVING REPORT—The members of the paving investigation committee which visited California and Texas cities to determine the type of pavement best suited to Phoenix, spent most of yesterday drawing up their report. It was thought that the report would be in shape last night but it requires a few finishing touches and some revision, which will be added tomorrow. The report will then be ready for the general committee.

DISTRICT COURT—In the law day session of the district court, in the case of the common council of the city of Phoenix against the Consolidated Telephone and Telegraph company in relation to taxes, the demurrer was stricken from the hearing calendar. A writ of certiorari was ordered in the case of Ben Uchida against P. P. Parker, justice of the peace, the object being to set aside a judgment against Uchida for $290 on account of certain forged checks against a Glendale bank, it having been alleged that the checks had been forged by the Japanese. He had been held to the grand jury for that offense but the case was later dismissed. In the meantime suit had been brought against him and judgment had been obtained.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH—The pastor, Rev. Robert S. Fisher, will preach both morning and evening. There will be special music at both of these services. The morning service will be devoted to the theme of Christmas both in music and sermon. At night the hour will be occupied with several unique features. The discourse will deal with the recent far-reaching decision of Judge Kent on the liquor question and with the general status of the reform in America. The position of the courts will be reviewed, as well as the economic phases of the question. Mr. Fisher will also answer the question, "Why Is Santa Claus a Myth to Two Hundred Thousand Children in America This Year?" At the evening service Mr. E. T. Martin, a world famous whistler, will render as a whistling solo "The Holy City." The church is at the corner of Second avenue and West Monroe street.

NEW NOTARIES—Governor Sloan yesterday granted notarial certificates to Genevieve M. Murphy of Wickenburg and J. M. Russell of Chloride.

VISITING RELATIVES—Duane Rebstock of Tucson, who formerly lived in Phoenix, came over yesterday to spend the holidays with relatives.

POSTOFFICE HOURS—The Phoenix postoffice, including the carrier windows, will be open from 10 to 12 this morning and until noon tomorrow.

GONE TO LOS ANGELES—Miss Mary O'Connell left on last night's train for Los Angeles to spend her vacation with her aunt and cousin, Miss Monica Flaherty.

A STOCKYARDS COMPANY—A number of the farmers and stockmen of the valley are discussing the advisability of forming a stockyard company, and desire that all persons interested will meet in Melzer's hall Tuesday, December 27, at 1:30 sharp.

CHANUKA SERVICES—Special Chanuka services will be held in Melzer hall this evening at eight o'clock and it is urged that every member of the congregation Emanuel be present if possible. A cordial invitation is also extended to all others interested, either Jew or Gentile, to attend. Rev. R. Hofstadter will preach a sermon on the subject, "The Jew as a Soldier."

INDIAN WOMAN'S CHRISTMAS—Governor Sloan yesterday signed a parole that releases Fannie King from the territorial penitentiary, she being the only female convict in the institution. Fannie King is a Tonto Apache squaw who was sent to the penitentiary on June 30, 1909, under a two-years' sentence for manslaughter. She has been a good prisoner and only had a short time longer to serve so the governor decided to release her on parole for a Christmas present, the more reason being that she is now practically an invalid.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE—The streets of Phoenix were thronged until a late hour last evening. Belated citizens were hurrying around to do their Christmas shopping, while many were out just because they like to be in a crowd and look around. Phoenix has seldom had larger crowds on her streets, even during fair week, and the city were a really metropolitan air of holiday festivity. The throngs were added to at various times by merry-makers from various churches. Some of the churches of the city, but not all, had their Christmas exercises on Christmas eve, and the children were made happy by gifts from the trees, usually taken off and presented by old Santa Claus himself.

DISPLAY ORANGES—It would be pretty hard to tell who among all the people of this valley, has raised the finest box of oranges. It is therefore rather risky to suggest that the box of oranges left at the board of trade yesterday by Mrs. Winfield Scott, from the grove of the late Chaplain Scott are the finest ever seen, but it is equally as dangerous to say they are not. It is perfectly safe however to say that no finer ones could be desired by anybody and every few that would stand against them in a competition are ever encountered. Secretary Welch of the board of trade is duly appreciative of the Christmas gift which he hopes will help bring a lot more people to this valley where so nearly as it is possible anywhere, Christmas lasts the whole year round.

NO GREAT HURRY—Col. Frank Hatch of New York who is now visiting Phoenix says he is looking for J. C. Adams to release him from under precipitation in carrying out a compact made between them when last they met. Mr. Hatch was urging Mr. Adams to rebuild his hotel with all possible speed. Mr. Adams assured him that he would do so and as a clinching proof of his faith he assured Mr. Hatch that he would have everything completed in time to open the house on the occasion of the celebration of the admission of Arizona to statehood. Mr. Hatch told him building was slow work and hinted that the promise was a wild and thoughtless one. That was several months ago, Mr. Hatch now says that J. C. may take his time, take all the time he wants to and finance the project one brick at a time. In that event he believes that statehood will come poking along about the time the new hotel Adams needs its second coat of paint. Still speaking to the point the colonel said that he knew of about forty senators over whom the wise one slipped the enabling act but there was nothing they could say in protest. This time they won't have to say anything. The embarrassment will be on the other fellow.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA—This evening being Christmas night, the choir of the Christian church, ably assisted by Mrs. Clyde M. Gandy and Mrs. R. M. Tafel, will fittingly remember the sacredness of the day by giving the cantata, "The Angelic Choir," by Carrie Adams. Mrs. Adams is a living present-day music writer and it is the comment of all who have heard this music that it compares favorably with the classics. The program is as follows: "Hark! What Music Fills the Air," trio and chorus, Mrs. Tafel, Mrs. Gandy and Mrs. Gandy; "There Came Three Kings," solo and quartette, contralto solo, Mrs. C. M. Gandy; male quartet, Messrs. Littlejohn, McNealey, Patrick and Phillips; "And There Were Shepherds," solo and chorus, E. N. Phillips; recitation and chorus, "Angel Voices," Mrs. Tafel, Mrs. Gandy, Mrs. Gandy, Mrs. Hunter. Chorus by choir, "Bethlehem," solo, "Mary's Manger Song," Mrs. C. W. Hunter; chorus, "Night All Nights Exceeding," "All My Heart This Night Rejoices," male quartet, "Hail, the Wondrous Stranger," Mrs. R. M. Tafel, ladies' quartet; final chorus. The following is the personnel of the choir: Mrs. R. M. Tafel, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Van Kirk, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Turner, Miss Vera Strouse, Miss Alene McNealey, Mrs. C. M. Gandy, Mrs. G. E. Golze, Mrs. S. M. Phoeby, Miss Doolley, Messrs. Littlejohn, McNealey, Druzen, Messrs. Messers, E. N. Phillips, Patrick, Winches, Gothrop; director, Mrs. Charise Hunter. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. Parsons came here recently from Fairfield, Maine, to spend the winter. For four or five years he was agent for the Ford at Fairfield so he knows just the kind of a car it is. Mr. Wilcox lives in the Salt River valley and a few days ago bought the Adams Pharmacy.

CHRISTMAS PRAISE SERVICE—Practically the entire service at the Presbyterian church tonight will consist of Christmas music. Dr. Campbell will give a short address appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Hulett, the director of the choir, has arranged for the service several quartettes, double quartettes and solos. There will be solos by Miss Alexander, Miss Hawley and Mr. Hull, members of the choir, and Mrs. Sargeant and Mr. Fred Spaulding. Strangers and those having no church home are especially invited to enjoy this Christmas service.
